Remarks

The claim listing filed 24 July 2006 amends the originally filed claim listing received 13 April 2006. Many of the claim amendments do not comply with 37 CFR 1.121 (c2), which states:

When claim text with markings is required. All claims being currently amended in an amendment paper shall be presented in the claim listing, indicate a status of "currently amended," and be submitted with markings to indicate the changes that have been made relative to the immediate prior version of the claims. The text of any added subject matter must be shown by underlining the added text. The text of any deleted matter must be shown by strike-through except that double brackets placed before and after the deleted characters may be used to show deletion of five or fewer consecutive characters. The text of any deleted subject matter must be shown by being placed within double brackets if strike-through cannot be easily perceived. Only claims having the status of "currently amended," or "withdrawn" if also being amended, shall include markings. If a withdrawn claim is currently amended, its status in the claim listing may be identified as "withdrawn—currently amended."

Appropriate correction is required.

It is also noted that claims 23 and 39, as listed, are dependent from claim 21 which has been cancelled. Since the dependence of claims 23 and 39 cannot be ascertained, claims 23 and 29 will be treated as independent claims.

It is also noted that claim 40, as listed, is dependent from claim 24 which has been cancelled. Since the dependence of claim 40 cannot be ascertained, claim 40 will be treated as an independent claim.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1. Unity exists when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding "special technical features".

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-9, 11-20, 23, 25-27, 29-33, 35, and 36, drawn to an active suspension system utilizing all input, including steering angle, to adjust damping.

Group II, claims 38-40, drawn to a vehicle with a suspension system.

Group III, claim 22, drawn to a suspension system wherein relative motion can inhibit sensory output.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: all groups above are drawn toward an active suspension system; however, each group contains varied algorithms and components and complexity to achieve a suspension adjustment.

It should be noted that if the Applicant is of the persuasion that the inventions are not distinct, Applicant should state so for the record; this would negate the restriction requirement.

2. If applicant elects Group I, the Applicant is further required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect on of the following disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable (currently no claims are generic):

- A) Maintaining the attitude of the chassis relative to the ground plane
- B) Maintaining the attitude of the chassis parallel with a plane of average articulation

It should be noted that if the Applicant is of the persuasion that the inventions are obvious variants, Applicant should state so for the record; this would negate the above restriction requirement.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
